Commercial advertisements often seek to generate increased consumption of their products or services through branding, which associates a product name or image with certain qualities in the minds of consumers. On the other hand, ads that intend to elicit an immediate sale are known as direct-response advertising. Non-commercial entities that advertise more than consumer products or services include political parties, interest groups, religious organizations, and governmental agencies. Non-profit organizations may use free modes of persuasion, such as a public service announcement.

Respond to the question in at least 50 words.

There are countless jobs for people to have when they venture out into the world. People can work for large corporations, or they can work for small businesses. I firmly believe that it is better to work for a small company versus a large corporation. I have only worked for small companies, and I would never find employment anywhere else. First, I enjoy working side-by-side with the owner of the company because it motivates me to work harder when I can see how my contribution directly impacts their livelihood. My efforts have never gone unnoticed. Furthermore, employment in a small company feels like you're working with family. We get to know and support each other on a much more intimate level. While there might be some positive aspects of working for a large corporation, I would never give up the relationships I have been able to make in small companies.

“Some people think children should have a pet dog to help teach them about taking care of others. Do you agree or disagree with this idea? Why?”

I agree that a pet usually makes a child more responsible, however, I don't agree that a pet dog will teach you to take care of other people because dogs and humans are completely different. A dog is happy no matter what you do, really they are just so positive all the time, even if the owner is not the nicest person. So, that's not really going to help you to know how to act around people. You see, other people do care if you treat them with respect or not. For example, I have a friend who's dog completely loves him, all he does is put the food out and come home after work and the dog is over the moon. However, this friend of mine, whenever he tries to start a romantic relationship, it usually fails because it's so complicated. He has tried to date a few mutual friends and they come back to me and say he's just not thoughtful, doesn't really plan ahead, and never gives any compliments and so everyone thinks he's just lazy. A dog hasn't changed him at all, so that's why I disagree with the statement.

Describe the image. You have to speak for between 30-90 seconds.

A flight attendant with short brown hair in a black and purple shirt walks down the aisle of a plane with a very large bottle of water in her hand. She must be helping the guests who are thirsty by pouring water for them while they are on route to their destination. In the crook of her arm, she is carrying a stack of plastic cups. She will probably go up and down all the aisles, asking each passenger if he or she would like something to drink before moving on and passing out snacks or dinner. She must be good at balancing water in her hands to pour it and serve it while the plane is flying. There are many heads that I see poking over the top of the seats, so she has a full plane to serve before she can sit down and take a break. As she is helping the passengers on the plane, she has a huge smile on her face. It looks like she really enjoys her job helping and serving people. It must be wonderful to be able to go to many different places several times a week because not everyone gets the opportunity to do that.

Talk about a time you went to a birthday celebration.

- Was it fun?
- Who did you go with?
- Who was it for?

Two weeks ago I went to my friend's birthday party and it was a lot of fun. I went with my partner and we decided to go to a restaurant first and eat something and have some coffee because we were feeling pretty tired and wanted to make sure that we arrived in a good mood, and also we wanted to make sure that we had plenty of food, good food, not the typical snacks that you get at a bar, so that we could make sure that we were ready to have some drinks. The meals we had were delicious and we only arrived about 40 minutes late. There was a big group at the bar for the birthday, it was my friend Rod's birthday and actually, he proposed to his girlfriend the day before so it was a double celebration. We had some beers and chatted for a few hours and then we decided to go to a club to dance. It was a little difficult to find a club that had room for us so we walked for a while but eventually, we got to a great place and we found a spot where we could dance and we had a great time.

“Describe a time you visited a beach. Where did you go? Who did you go with? What activities did you do?”

A few months ago, I visited an amazing beach. It was actually an island that is part of Colombia but off the coast of Nicaragua. I went with a friend and we were part of a big tour with a guide. We did a lot of different activities, for example on the first day we went in a jeep to tour the island. We stopped at different places to get pictures and found a strange hole where the ocean came in, pushed up through the rocks, and sprayed people. It was quite funny to see people lose their hats and glasses and even get knocked over. Another day we went out to a smaller island and it had the perfect beach. The sand was completely white and the ocean had seven different colors of blue, turquoise and green. We ate delicious fish and went swimming a little bit. After that, we went to visit an outdoor aquarium with stingrays, turtles, and other beautiful fish that were bright and colorful. We did some shopping in the city where there were lots of sales and bought some makeup products that would have cost double on the mainland.
